PLAY KAREN'S DEMO REEL

Karen Hutton is a professional light bender and storyteller. That's crafty shorthand to say that Karen has her own particular brand of fine art landscape photography - which marble-swirls into the fact that she's also a professional voiceover artist, host of her own online video series, a writer, speaker and teacher. The inspiration weaving it all together: transforming people's lives through Light. Creating photographic art with it; creating and sharing stories that inspire, enlighten and transform.

Karen's ability to reach audiences is palpable in her photographic work. It wakes up imaginations, engages viewers.. heck, it just feels amazing to be around. (So does she). The impact of her photography has been described as a "full body jolt of inspiration"; making it a favorite amongst followers worldwide.

But it doesn't stop there. Her background as a performer, coupled with a desire & unique ability to "awaken the soul's genius" in people has made her a natural at speaking, hosting her own show, at interviewing others who "live their lives as an art" and leading Virtual Photo Walks for a global audience. In fact, her dream is to bring her audience with her virtually - wherever, whenever she photographs around the world.

Audiences cheer: She currently has over 2 million followers on social media; views of her photography measure in the billions. Karen and her photography have been featured at Google (first woman ever to speak in the "Photographers at Google" series"), NBC Nightly News, Forbes.com,... and on Stuck in Customs, as the voice of Stuck on Earth, TwIP, Macphun Software, The Grid, Rick Sammon's DPE Podcast. She's also an Inception Master of The Arcanum and the most followed host for Virtual Photo Walks

Karen is based in the Sierra Nevada mountains of California.

"Karen --- I owe you another big hug when I see you. You are really a gifted interviewer, and a wonderfully talented person and although it was probably the hardest interview I've ever done (for obvious reasons), I was honored to be a part of "The Chat" and very grateful for the time Kalebra and I got to spend getting knowing you better. I'll never forget my interview on The Chat."

Scot Kelby, owner Kelby Media and KelbyOne

"Brilliant and insightful."

Angelika Perry

"Bravo... well done. You are one of the best interviewers that I've seen."

Michael Lloyd

"Karen is one of those few artists whose work perfectly reflects her personality and spirit for life: Glowing, bursting with inspiration and radiating warmth. If you think Karen's work is amazing, just wait until you have an opportunity to spend some time with her in person."

Brian Matiash, Photographer, Global Photos Products Evangelist for Google

"You know what's even better than Karen on video...Karen live. Her energy and joy transforms everything in it's path. (I saw an elephant seal fart glitter when we were together...I swear.)"

Alan Shapiro, Advertising Chief Creative Officer & Award-Winning Photographer

"Karen has the ability to channel energy in ways I've never seen before. Not only is she a beautiful artist, but she is truly a beautiful person."

Trey Ratcliff, Photographer, Artist, Writer, Adventurer

"I first encountered Karen online. Amidst the noise and chaos of social media her images stopped me in my tracks. The imagery was amazingly beautiful but there was something else about them which caused me pause. They exuded a peaceful tranquillity that drew me into the scene itself. A few months later I had the pleasure of meeting Karen and seeing her art firsthand. Her infectious enthusiasm for life and the striking beauty of her prints were inspirational and made me fan forever!"

MAKING TRACKS FOR HOME

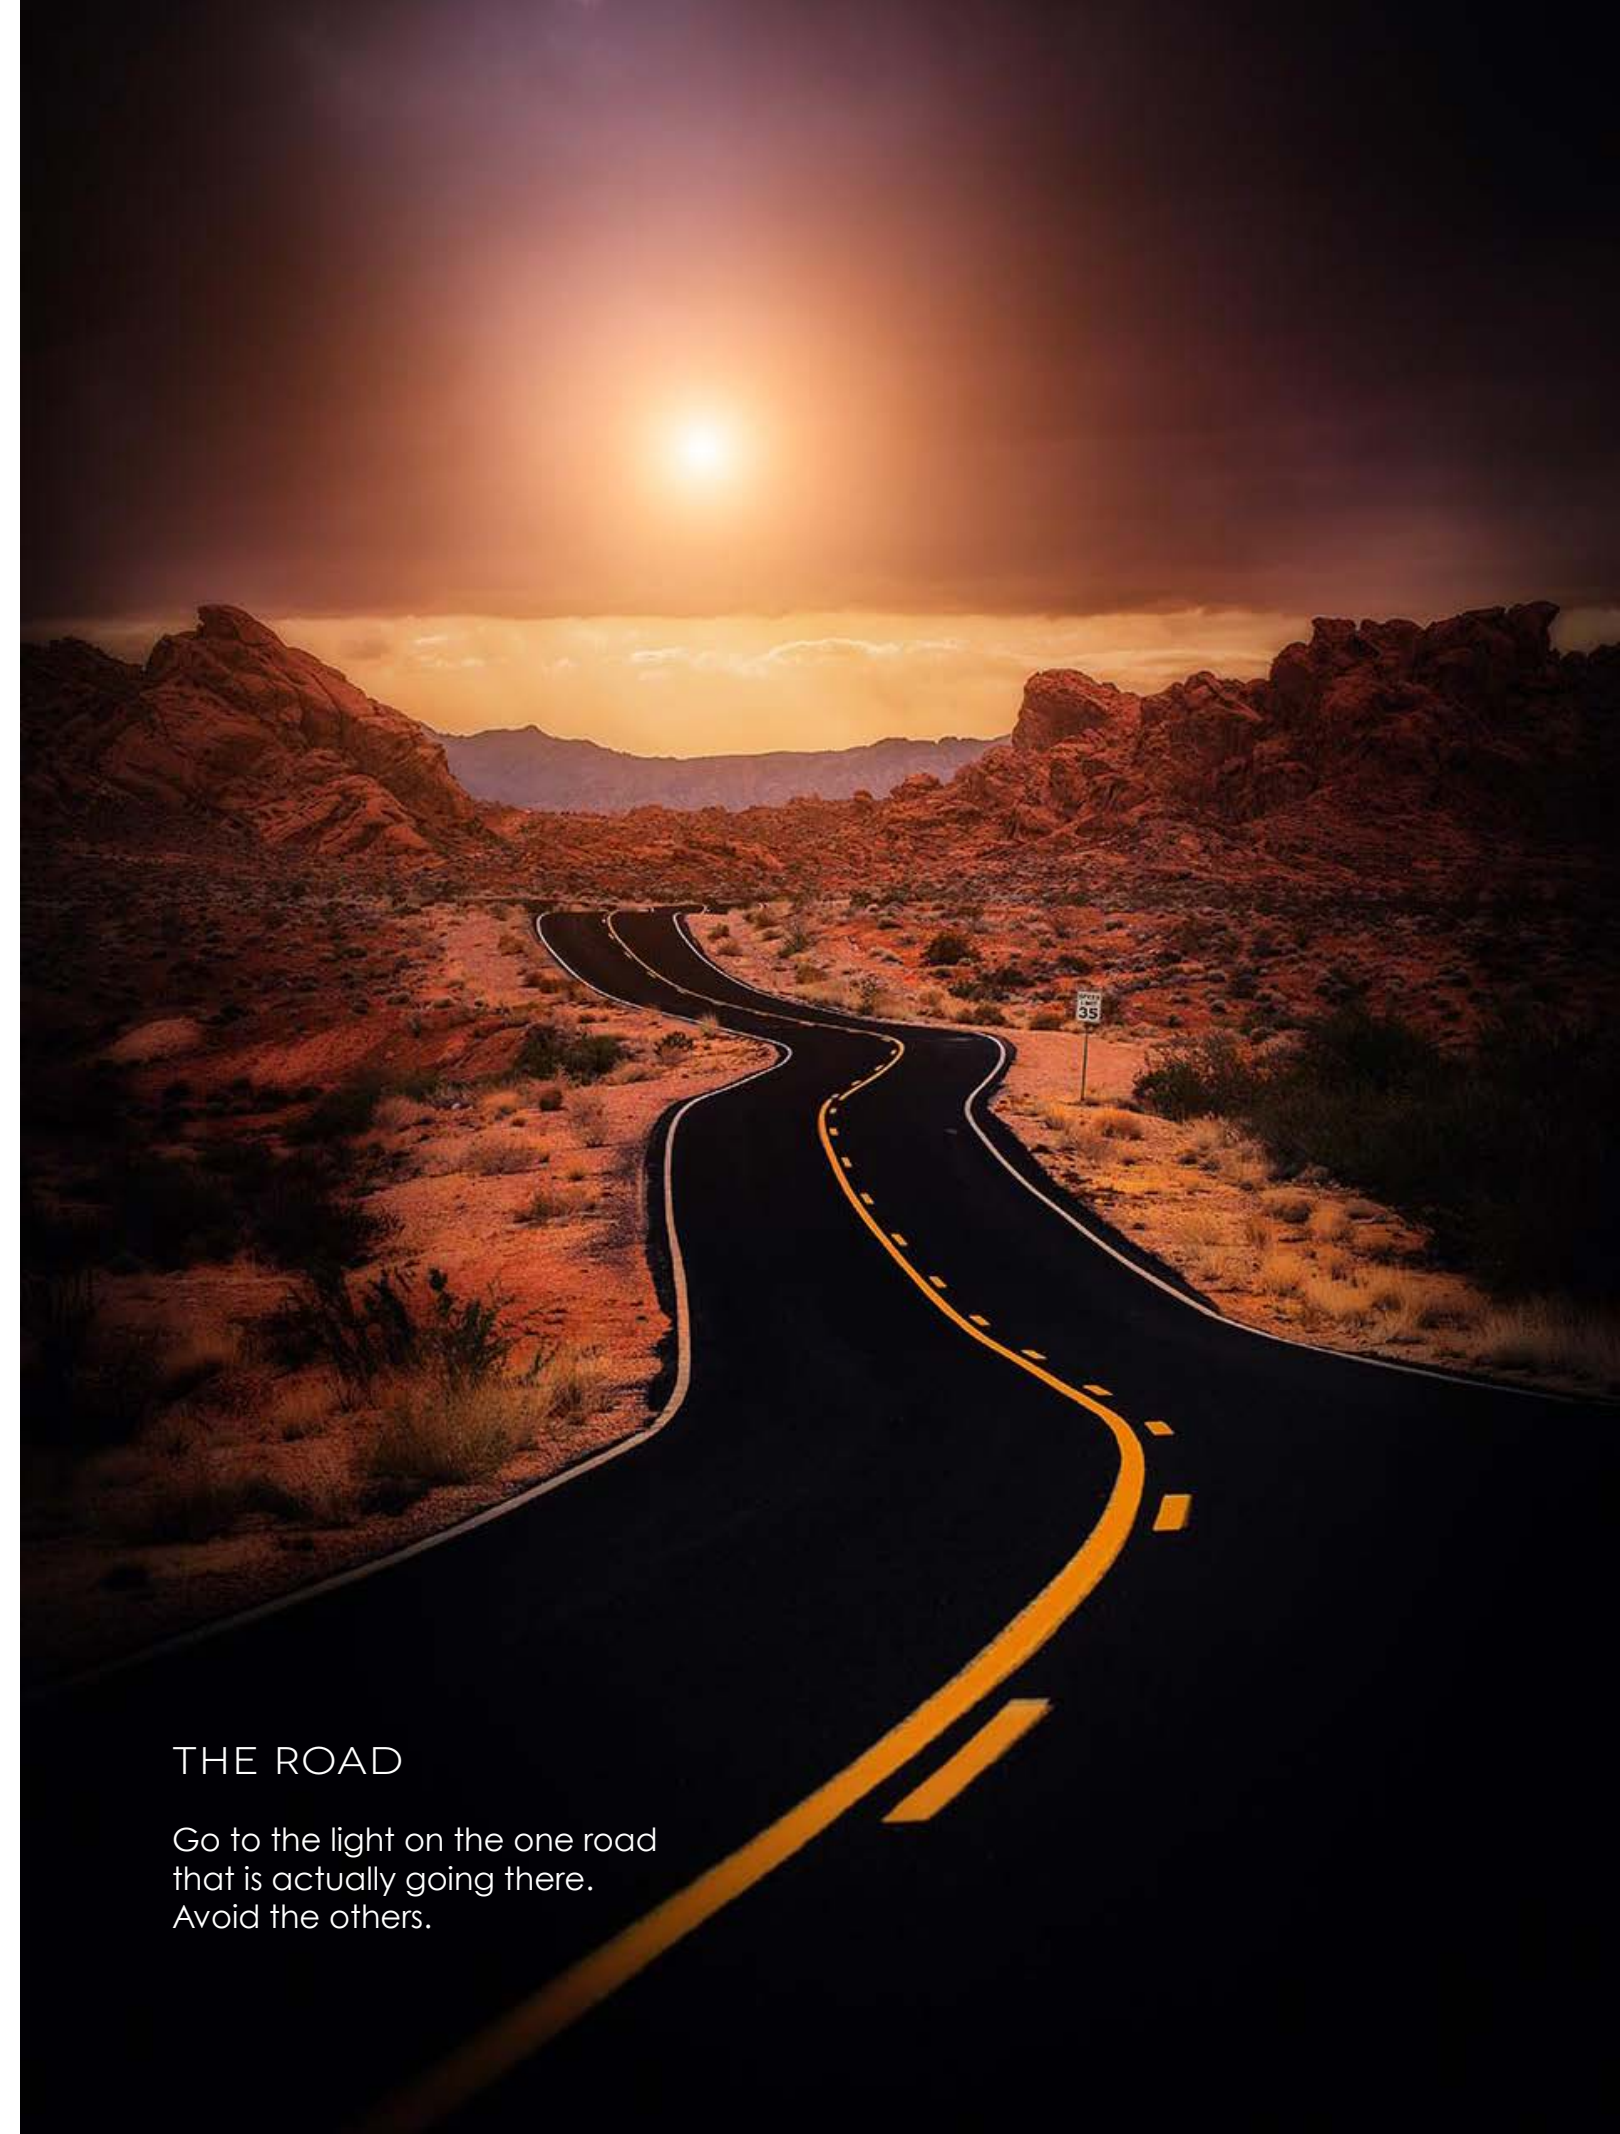

Everything slows down in a redwood forest. Heart. Pulse. Brain. Peace descends. I looked down the tracks. Followed the lines with my eyes. Imagined the journey, marked by a light, magical mist. Peered into the distance to make sure; yep, definitely magical. Colors: perfect array, warm to cool. Textures: delectable. Breathed in the moist woody fragrance. Lowered my camera and felt a shiver. Smiled. There it was. The signature of my own soul's journey, making tracks for home.

THE ROAD

Go to the light on the one road that is actually going there.
Avoid the others.

COURAGE OVER TIME

The storms, the winds, the elements, all battled for life and light.

Over time, it took courage... and some fighting spirit... to make a go of it.

Which made the curves in her character all the more meaningful.

NEW DAY

She awoke refreshed and ready for the day, to-do list in hand.
First item: Make her mark in the heavens above.
